Buy it for looks. Buy it for life.®

Throughout history, water has shaped the world we live in - where we gather, what we do on the weekends and what rooms we make room for. So it's about time we recognize all water does for us, and give it the attention it deserves. For over 75 years, Moen has thrived at the intersection of style and innovation. And with 1.5 trillion gallons of water running through our faucets each year, we feel a tremendous responsibility to make sure every one of your interactions with water is a meaningful one.

We opened our doors in 1989. We design, engineer and manufacture products for the kitchen cabinet, bath and closet industries. We sell our own – and only our own – products and deliver direct to our customers.
